Members Information

Please login via the small login invitation at bottom left. A 'lightbox' login box is then displayed. After login, you can then access the members navigation menu; you will see a new menu at the top left - you can reach additional sections and pages from here.

Note that until you receive a new Username and Password from the Association, it will not be possible to login. The members area will be completed last, and when available will be announced on the News page. At present the membership list and email addresses are being consolidated.

New Usernames and Passwords will be issued, different from the previous ones. Currently, the login exists in order to allow content editors to access pages for editing.

You cannot register via the Login box - passwords are only issued via the Association.

You can logout if you like; sessions expire after a short time, though, so this is not strictly necessary.
